

Quick facts about TEACH GRANTS

More info online at www.finaid.msu.edu/teachgrant.asp

What is the TEACH Grant?

The TEACH Grant is a federal financial aid program for students who plan to teach in a high-need field as a highly-qualified teacher in designated elementary or secondary schools serving low-income students. Students may currently receive up to $3,712 per year with a lifetime maximum of $16,000 for undergraduates and $8,000 for graduate students. Maximum annual amounts are subject to federal sequestration.

What is the teaching obligation?

Students receiving the TEACH Grant must teach for four full school years within eight years following the completion of their teaching program.

Students who do not complete the teaching obligation will have the grants converted to federal loans with interest accrued from the date they received the funds.

Who is eligible?

Students majoring in education or in a high need subject area will be considered for the TEACH Grant. Students interested in applying must:
